

H. S. DRAMATIC CLUB WILL PRESENT "HOUSE BEAUTIFUL"

Channing Pollock's Play to be Given in Town Hall Saturday Evening, with Large High School Cast. Capacity Audience Expected.

Red Cross Classes To Start Next Week

Mrs. A. Warren Rutherford, chairman of the Arlington Red Cross, has announced the opening of a Red Cross course in home hygiene and care of the sick, to start on Tuesday, February 6, at 2:00 p. m. in Junior Library Hall. The class will meet once a week for twelve lessons from 2:00 to 4:00 p. m.

Just in Case

The selectmen received a letter from the national Red Cross organization Monday night requesting them to appoint a liaison officer to serve between the town and the Red Cross in case of major disaster in this community. The selectmen immediately appointed Chief Archie F. Bullock of the police department to serve as coordinating agent in such an emergency.

Drama lovers of Arlington are looking forward to the presentation on Saturday night of Channing Pollock's famous play, "The House Beautiful," by the Arlington High School Dramatic Club in Robbins Memorial Town Hall Saturday evening, and the play is expected to reach a large audience here, as it has in many of the larger cities of the country.

"The House Beautiful" message is in the hands of two steadfast characters, Archie Davis and his wife, Jennifer, combating the age of materialism in which pleasures and possessions are won at the expense of the soul. The play's story is the story of their homes, founded on sacrifice, love and honesty. The scenes, picturing periods and events in their lives, are projected by means of novel stagecraft. Their home beautiful ideals are menaced by threats of a zoning law sought by the progressive, authorizing unsightly business houses in their growing subdivision. Archie is elected mayor of the town and wins in this encounter, aided by his son's

Medical Clubs Meet At Ring's Sanatorium

The Arlington and Belmont medical clubs met at the assembly hall of the Ring Sanatorium and Hospital, on Friday evening, January 26, as has been their practice annually for several years. Doctor Ralph H. Wells, president of the Arlington Doctors' Club, presided.

The paper of the evening was the report of a study of 100 cases of "Mid-Life Mental Problems" by Doctors Curtis T. Prout and Albert U. Bourcier of the Ring Sanatorium. Their study revealed as causes for many of these problems the fact that it is in middle life, which for the purposes of this study was placed at between 40 and 60 years of age, various factors make it a period of greatest stress. It is during these years that the adult takes on the care of ageing relatives; this, together with the care and education of the youth, the maintenance of the home, struggle for economic security, and the changing physical condition which occurs during this involutional period, combine in many individuals to

LOCAL BOY SCOUT COUNCIL IN SPIRITED ANNUAL MEETING

George B. C. Rugg Re-elected Vice-President. Russell P. Wise Resigns as Treasurer after Two Years. Scouting Shows Record Growth.

The 15th annual meeting and banquet of Sachem Council, Inc., of the Boy Scouts of America, was held Saturday, January 27th, at the Old Belfry Club, Lexington.

At the business meeting in the afternoon these officers were re-elected: President, Dr. Walter T. Garfield of Belmont; vice-presidents George B. C. Rugg of Arlington, and George M. Dimond of Bedford; scout commissioner, George K. Sawwein of Belmont; and to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Russell P. Wise, Francis J. Carey of Watertown was elected treasurer.

Reports from the chairmen of the various council committees and from Scout Executive Merrell showed that scouting in the eight towns of the council area was increasing year by year and that at the end of 1939 there were more Scouts, Cubs and leaders enrolled than ever before and more and bet-

Local People Sponsor Scandinavian Ball

Scandinavian solidarity, about which one hears so much these days, is being aptly illustrated by the eleventh annual charity ball, sponsored by the Aquilo Club, Junior League of the Swedish Charitable Society of Greater Boston, for the benefit of the Swedish Home for Aged in West Newton. The ball will be held tomorrow (Friday) evening, February 2nd, in the Imperial Ballroom of the Hotel Vendome, Boston. Included on the patron and patroness list are Christian J. Berglund, past president of the Swedish Charitable Society, and Mrs. Berglund and Miss, Alice T. Rantz.

Ethel and Elsa Dahlstrom, Nona Peterson and Frida Nelson, will be ushers at the Ball. Serving on various committees are May I. Johnson, Leslie F. Peterson, Esther Zöllin, and Mr. and Mrs. Martin L. Paulson, all of Arlington.

"NIGHT MUST FALL" WILL SEE RISE OF BRILLIANT NEW STAR

In this play Mr. Wallace again has a chance to exercise his unusual gift for dialect, and as one trained observer put it, his Welsh accent is absolutely "kilt edged." He must also exercise just about every emotion known to humanity and use them to such a nice degree that the audience knows when he is "just acting" for the benefit of the other stage characters and when he is really living the story. And all this is couched in language which adds up to one of the longest and most difficult roles ever written for an actor.

As friends of the Drama actors go, Mr. Wallace is relatively inexperienced, but he more than makes up for that with truly remarkable native ability, an eager willingness to absorb direction and a prodigious appetite for work. In fact, he will quit rehearsal only after his vital endurance has worn the director and the rest of the cast to a frazzle.

In spite of all that, "Night Must Fall" is far from being a one-man show. The cast is small, but each member has a truly vital supporting part—from Mrs. Bramson, the old woman everyone loves to hate, down to Dora, the foolish handmaiden. Ann Pickering, who is the Mrs. Bramson of this production, will bring to the meaty role all the experience she has gained from previous professional performance in the same play. Betty Goodwin is destined for a brilliant performance while portraying the subtle character of Olivia, Mrs. Bramson's brow-beaten niece. Other shining lights will be Irene Allison as the second maid, Gladys Stevens as the cook, Warren Guild as Olivia's ineffectual suitor, Bernadine Brooks as the nurse, John O. Matthews, who will open the play with a brief prologue, and Parker Wood, who is playing the part of Inspector Belsize while directing the production.

The setting, designed by Barbara Llewellyn and constructed by her large and hard-working crew, is in perfect keeping with the play, and the effects, lighting and sound, worked out by Malcolm Stewart, are certain to add to the effectiveness of the production. Beatrice Ring and Alice Wallace are assisting the director, while Jessie Kennedy is collecting the properties with which to dress the set.

Town Treasurer Edits Book for Dartmouth '90

Class of 1890, Dartmouth College, has just published an elaborate class book as part of its golden jubilee. The book, which contains eighty pages of highly interesting pictures and class data, has been compiled and edited by Charles A. Hardy, secretary of the class, and Arlington's town treasurer.

The book has this to say about Mr. Hardy:

"Hardy went through the public schools of Arlington, Mass., his home town, entering Dartmouth from the Arlington High School. In college he was a great devotee of tennis, and was president of the Tennis Association our senior year. Hardy taught school his freshman winter at Wells, Vt. During the summer seasons he was an assistant cashier in summer hotels and two winters held a like position in Florida. He was class marshal, as was his son, 'Sykes' Hardy, Dartmouth '27."

"After graduating he spent a short time in the printing business and with a Title Insurance Co., and then became associated with the Mellins Food Co. of North America, with offices in Boston. After nearly twenty years in their office he entered the grain jobbing business of his two brothers. Ten years later Hardy was elected Town Treasurer of Arlington, Mass., which office he has held over nineteen years. He is a past president of the Massachusetts Collectors and Treasurers Association.

"In 1901 he married Laura Davis of Bridgton, Me. They had two sons, Charles L. ('Sykes'), Dartmouth '27 and Davis, who died in 1921. There is one granddaughter.

"Hardy has taken rather an active part in the civic life of his town, particularly in the local historical society and has been for many years Treasurer and Director of the Bay State Historical League."

ter scouting activities, particularly camping, than the council has ever known. Of particular interest was the fact brought out in the report of Erald L. Sawyer of Watertown, chairman of the personnel committee, that 200 adult leaders had enrolled in the training course during the year and that 147 completed the required work and received certificates—a record few councils the size of Sachem have broken.

During the business meeting the members passed a vote of appreciation and thanks to Russell P. Wise for his work as treasurer for two years.

The following new members were elected to the executive board of the council: Leslie Anderson of Concord; Henry C. Guernsey of Arlington; Wm. S. Holdsworth of Watertown; Hollis B. MacDougall, Lexington; Daniel MacKay, Belmont; Raymond S. Morrill, Arlington; Joseph S. Newell, Lincoln; Thomas L. Sanborn, Concord; Leroy E. Sweeney, Waltham; Edwin C. Towne, Waltham; Lowell A. Warren, Waltham; Chester R. Whitman, Arlington.

After the business meeting the scouts attended the discussion groups on camping, cubbing and senior scouting. Late in the afternoon movies were shown of Camp Sachem, Camp Oak and the Cub Palava by Scout Executive Jack Merrill and a trip down the Alleghash River by David C. Hyde.

At 6:30 p. m. more than 200 Scouts and friends enjoyed a delicious dinner. President Garfield presided and the toastmaster was Eric L. Johnson of Watertown.

The program after the banquet was full of interesting features. The most important from a scouting standpoint was the awarding of the Silver Beaver for distinguished service to boyhood by the National Council to Harold B. Dalton of Belmont, whose record in scouting has been outstanding. The award was made by former President William H. Eckert, as chairman of the Silver Beaver committee.

For twenty-five years service in scouting, the Rev. Paul H. Chapman, pastor of the First Parish church in Lexington, and Cubmaster of Pack 76 was given a 25-year pin. The investing was done by First Vice President George B. C. Rugg.

A third award, which brought forth particularly long and hearty applause from the scouts was one made to Miss M. Agnes McGrath of the council office who had just completed 15 years of loyal and efficient service as office secretary. From National Headquarters Miss McGrath received a letter of appreciation and congratulation and from the scouts of Sachem a substantial gift cunningly hidden in the streamers of a large bouquet. The presentation was made by Harold B. Dalton.

President Garfield reviewed the achievements of the past year, and Don W. Moyer, regional scout executive, brought greetings from the National Council.

The principal address of the evening was made by J. Harold Williams, scout executive, Narragansett Council, Providence, Rhode Island, who gave a stirring and inspiring address on the "U" in Scouting. Mr. Williams held the close attention of the assembly and delighted all by his oratorical power and by the sane and worthwhile thoughts he expressed.

The meeting ended with the Scout Oath led by Sea Scout William Meadows.

During the evening enthusiastic singing was held under the baton of Ernest F. Freeman of Belmont, with H. Webster Thomas of Lexington at the piano.

Archie becomes known as a failure because he has refused to prosper through dishonest methods. After his death, Jennifer keeps alive their ideals, with Archie's spirit lingering to afford her courage and companionship. She is ready to part with the house when the son plans to use its site as a memorial to his father.

Catherine Iaconis plays the part of Jennifer Davis, and her husband will be Stephen Keefe. Jean Mark plays Nina Baxter, a highly emotional sophisticate of the 1920's, while Terry Shuman finds an outlet for his abilities as a comedian in the part of Elbert Baxter, a real estate promoter. Dick Davis, the son, is portrayed by John Highland as a 10-year-old boy in the early part of the play and by Wilmer Hayes as an adult later.

Other members of the cast are: Eugene Dente as Dr. Brink; Guy Stanton played by Richard Scholer; Thomas Johnson as Sam Dreyer; Barbara Birch as Vivian Baxter; Julia Joanna as Martha Wiley, and Anita LeBlanc as Hulda.

"The Committee would like to thank Assessor Guy Edwards for his thoughtfulness and consideration. Chairman Milton Estabrook received a letter from Mr. Edwards informing the committee that due to the growth of his business and the time he must devote to its management, he will be unable to serve the town in the capacity of Assessor, at this time. Mr. Edwards has served the town well in a very trying period. Mr. Edwards shows that he has the interest of the town at heart, by announcing his retirement, because he feels that he will be unable to devote sufficient time to the performance of this trust."

"Year by year, the Citizens' Committee is growing. Every year the people of Arlington are helping to make our town as clean, honest and highly efficient as possible, by electing the Qualified Candidates."

"In order to endorse the most qualified public official, all candidates are sincerely requested to submit their written qualifications to Robert L. Moore, chairman of the Qualification Committee, not later than 12 o'clock noon, February 4th."

At the banquet held at the Old Belfry Club, Lexington, on Saturday, January 27, by the Sachem Council Boy Scouts, the Arlington Girl Scout Council and members took the opportunity of expressing their appreciation of kindnesses of Miss Agnes MacGrath by presenting her with a corsage of camellias. Miss MacGrath has been fifteen years with the Boy Scouts.

CAMERAGRAPHS

FRED ALLEN, like many another, has long nursed the urge to talk in person with one of those Western Union girls who sing telegraphic greetings for so much per word. He'll let his fans in on the private thoughts of one who has musically greeted such celebrities as Kate Smith, Gabriel Heatter, Dave Elman and many others when he interviews Margaret Melich on his program Wednesday, February 7, over NBC.

KATE SMITH has been named for the second year as a member of the National Committee for the Celebration of President's Birthday on January 30. Shown with the singer are (left to right) Keith Morgan, national chairman of the committee; Bill Corum, sports writer and ardent supporter of the committee in its fight against infantile paralysis; and Bob Trout, the President's radio announcer.

10c NAVY: Tony Gerard, Jr., of San Diego, Calif., is shown working on the complete miniature navy he is building from a dime's worth of wood and plenty of painstaking effort.

RIDDLE ME THIS and get a new Willys. That's what Bob Eison and Rube Sherman say on Turn's Quicksilver program every Wednesday night over the NBC-blue Network. Broadcasting from the lobby of the Hotel Sherman in Chicago, they give away traps of silver dollars and a grand weekly price of a new Willys sedan.

MODERN UPIDS! These pretty ladies are taking no chances with the vagaries of the little imp—and are tending to their own arrow shooting.

CONRAD'S LUNCH
FOOD
SERVED IN HOME STYLE
946 MASS. AVENUE

Conrad's Restaurant Owner is Canadian World War Veteran

Anyone with any faculty for observation at all would realize that restaurant proprietors, particularly if they are real working proprietors, have to labor very long hours. Arch Conrad, owner and chef of Conrad's lunch, is no exception to the rule. He works from five-thirty in the morning until late at night in order to insure the excellence of the meals he serves to his ever-growing list of customers.

Mr. Conrad started business in Arlington six years ago and every year has enjoyed increasing success. About a year and a half ago he moved across the street to his present location at 946 Massachusetts avenue, with the far better than anticipated result of jumping his business nearly 100%.

Except for the period of the World War of 1914-18, Mr. Conrad has been in the restaurant business all his life, coming to Arlington from Medford six years ago. He and Mrs. Conrad, who is associated with her husband in the restaurant, make their home here near to their place of business.

Mr. Conrad has been in the United States for more than thirty years, but having been born in Nova Scotia, he returned to Canada during the war and enlisted with the Canadian forces. He served in France for nearly three years and was wounded in combat.

The lunch room at 946 Massachusetts avenue, which is fitted up with comfortable booths as well as a short order counter, makes a specialty of home-style cooking. It is open for business from six o'clock in the morning until eight at night.

Arlington Woman Wins "Pet" Award

An unusually interesting event in which a number of local women participated was a Pet Show, held Saturday night in Huntington Chambers Hall, Boston, by the Women's Association of the Massachusetts Osteopathic Hospital. The "pet" was a miscellaneous collection of animals, mostly dogs, fashioned of wood, metal, glass, or fabrics.

A large proportion of the 200 entries were submitted by members of the Arlington-Belmont-Cambridge Auxiliary. The prize for the largest dog in the show was taken by Miss Viola Dickson, 73 Thorndike street, with a furry "pet" nearly two feet high.

Gammell Brothers Show Genius For Business Building

Down at 46 Broadway, near St. Paul's cemetery, is a Socony filling station operated by two extremely energetic and resourceful young men, Frank and Harold Gammell. Gammell's is not an ordinary service station, however, for it is also headquarters for Socony fuel oil, range oil, and power burners of all types, including Timken and almost everything else in any way connected with the oil business. The brothers Gammell service not only automobiles but also offer twenty-four-hour service on household oil burners.

The Gammell brothers have prospered greatly since coming to this country from Nova Scotia, the land of their birth. Frank, the elder and by far the larger member of the partnership, came here first more than twenty years ago and for a long time worked for the Cambridge Ice Company. Harold, the present spokesman for the business, came here a few years later and received his latter education in the Somerville schools, graduating from high school and the Somerville trade school.

Eight years ago the Gammells took over the service station at 46 Broadway when it was selling about 40,000 gallons of gasoline a year. Last year their gasoline business exceeded 130,000 gallons. At the same time they have branched out into the fuel oil business, starting with a seventy-five gallon tank on a two-wheel trailer. Now they operate a fleet of trucks which are taking care of the 600,000 gallons of fuel oil contracted for this winter.

In addition to all that, they have a complete line of oil burners which they service with all the skill gained from having started at the bottom. They also handle coal, coke, ice and range oil, which they will deliver in lots as low as five gallons.

They operate not only the Arlington station, but they also have acquired a service station in Medford on Mystic avenue, which has become one of the largest Socony stations north of Boston. At both stations they handle Firestone and selling the Dunlops at big reductions.

Employed at the Arlington station are Helmer and Dean Fisher, fuel truck drivers; Creighton Parker, Arlington High School student and all round handy man, and Norma Wilson, bookkeeper, a student at Bryant & Stratton college. It was young Parker whose quick wit made it possible to catch that armed bandit who robbed the Gammell station last winter.

Both Gammell brothers have become United States citizens and Arlington voters, both now own their own homes and live near their business headquarters on Michael street, a new development off Silk street.

Virginia's Beauty Shop Has Attracted Growing Patronage

Since last July when Miss Chandler took it over, the beauty shop at 3 Lake street, near the corner of Massachusetts avenue, has grown with such rapid strides that the proprietress wants to make a point of extending her appreciation to the hundreds of Arlington ladies who have favored her with constantly increasing patronage.

The fact is that Miss Chandler has every right to success, even though it has already exceeded her fondest expectations. She has a fine location and a most attractively decorated shop with all the latest in equipment to handle all branches of beauty culture. She knows Arlington and Arlington people, having been born right here in this town. And associated with her she has two highly skilled operators. All that, of course, adds up to patronage in most gratifying numbers.

Miss Chandler is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin M. Chandler and has made her home in Arlington, off and on, all her life, although the family is at the moment living in Billerica. Mr. Chandler is a well-known Somerville printer and until recently lived on Lockland avenue.

Miss Barbara M. Davis and Dolly, the other two attractive operators, are possessed of a great deal of experience, having been in the business four years and seven years, respectively. They are not only possessed of versatile dexterity, but they are hard working girls, too. They have to be, for the shop is open all day every working day, including Wednesday afternoons, and is also open to take care of appointments on Tuesday, Friday and Saturday evenings.

Local Woman Author of New Spelling Book

Word has been received at the Hickox Secretarial School that "Campbell's Speller and Business Vocabulary," the "Five-foot Shelf of Words," by Edina Campbell Dover of this town, is being put into Braille by the Perkins Institute of Boston.

This book represents a radical departure in word book writing. Unlike other spellers, it does not contain the A-B-C words of the kindergarten, but provides a workable vocabulary for that vast number of persons who have finished grammar school and may never enter college — high or preparatory school students, secretaries, business men and women, and home-keepers.

If one's vocabulary has shrunk or deteriorated from careless usage and repetition of over-worked words, this text will supply appropriate synonyms to give ease and elegance to speech.

The author, Mrs. Edina Campbell Dover, in compiling this work, has cut loose from all antiquated methods, and the book contains only one spelling rule.

The words are amply explained with definitions and ingenious sentence illustrations giving exact usage.

The feature of this week's game was the win of the Mohawks, last year's runners-up, over the Arlington Pals in a close battle at the Junior High West. The final score was in doubt until the last minute of play, when the Mohawks caged two quick baskets and went ahead to win by a score of 33 to 29.

—G. Bertram Washburn, secretary of the Arlington Taxpayers' Association, has been engaged to speak before a similar organization at Abington this evening. Dr. Franklin P. Hawkes, formerly of Arlington and now superintendent of the Abington schools, will probably be an interested listener.

On the Hollywood lots where he kept huge casts, big stars and heavy overhead waiting around for days because of his intemperance, John Barrymore lost his memory for lines. His line-bedecked blackboard held out of camera range for his off-screen eye to focus on while the on-screen eye acted has long been a famous Barrymore accessory. Now, cast upon the boards once more, far away from the presence of his blackboard, Mr. Barrymore took to making up his own lines and thereby made a smash hit out of a poor play.

"My Dear Children" was scheduled to present itself in New York, but the anti-John Barrymore, Mrs. Barrymore Number Four, had bought out the first two rows of the theatre, intending to put on a swell razzberry every evening. John fooled her, however, and fled to Hollywood to make "Rip Van Winkle" for Monogram. Boston is the loser as well as New York. Promised a Thanksgiving week of "My Dear Children," the back bay state has waited patiently. The Boston Opera House-housed John Barrymore's "Hamlet" fifteen years ago and that was the last time he ever played the baked bean city.

But you never can predict Mr. Barrymore or his behavior. He may finish "Rip Van Winkle" next week, sign a peace pact with his latest wife, re-open the "My Dear Children" the week after and the following week bring it to Boston. Who knows?

GO TO IT

Robert L. Moore, newly elected president of the Arlington Boys' Club, is not quite ready to announce plans for the immediate financial future of the organization, but he does cite from Director Deane W. Moore's annual report facts which show very clearly that much more money than is now available will be necessary to keep the wheels of boy-building machinery turning during 1940.

Mr. Moore writes, "With the beginning of a new year, we must look ahead. The Boys' Club is growing, we cannot stand still, we must go forward. There are many activities that we need for a well balanced program. At the present time, I believe that the most pressing problem we are confronted with is the manner and means we must take to raise sufficient money to operate. The allotment from the Community Chest will cover approximately only half our expenses. This to my mind requires much careful thought and deliberation."

The Boys' Club has certainly performed a splendid service to this community during the two years of its existence, and it is certainly up to the town to continue its efficiency. As long as the Community Chest has fallen short of adequacy, it is up to the new officers and directors to discover ways and means. Go to it, Messrs. Moore and Moores.

WHY APE THE DICTATORS?

The proposal, made by a high Federal official, that the President be given sweeping dictatorial powers in time of "war emergency" has met with the opposition of a large number of America's newspapers, Republican and Democratic alike.

The Portland Oregonian made a typical comment when it said: "It is an unexplainable phenomenon that there are free-born Americans in important positions who would have us prepare for war by adopting the theories of government that are responsible for the present war—theories which have not yet proved an asset in the winning of a war, but which in Russia have produced an amazing and disastrous military incompetence."

One wonders just what grounds any official has for talking about an imminent emergency. The recent polls show that the American people are as determined to keep neutral as they were when hostilities abroad began. The pronouncements of most officials, including the President, indicate a deep determination to keep out of foreign war, and to never again send an A. E. F. to other lands.

To give any executive of government the power to commandeer factories, ships, supplies, and to take those other steps which we so properly associate with dictatorships, not democracy, is to give hostage to the enemy. It would fasten upon our own land those ruthless shackles which so cruelly bind millions of people in lands where all liberties have been destroyed by the State. Call this socialism, communism, or what you will—irrespective of the name employed, the extension of the power of unrestrained officialism over the individual must inevitably mean the death of democracy and freedom and our Constitutional form of Government.

Perhaps the most vital quality the American people must possess today is calmness—the ability to rationally and coolly think things through. If we give way to hysteria and to the bland arguments of those who cry "emergency" whenever opposition to their plans appears, our future as a nation and as a free people will be dark. The job of all Americans is to really keep democracy alive at home.

LAYMEN'S LEAGUE MIXES SCOTCH WITH CONFUCIUS

Birthday to You Dear Padre," a birthday cake being placed in front of Rev. John Nicol Mark in honor of his birthday. Mr. Mark was presented by the Laymen's League with a pipe, tobacco pouch and a goodly supply of tobacco.

Through the courtesy of Thomas Bain, vice-president of the Kilwinning Club, a group of Scotsmen presented a delightful program. Frank Hendrie, wearing kilts and the "Royal Stuart" tartan gave a bagpipe solo, "Far Across the Sea." Wearing like Scotch costumes, Miss Jessie Anderson and Peter Anderson sang a duet, "Blue Bells of Scotland," and encored with "Crooked Bawbee." They were accompanied at the piano by Miss Mary Anderson.

Alexander MacNeil brought to Mr. Mark birthday greetings in the Scotch dialect and gave two readings, "Wee Little Tin Whistle," and a humorous impersonation of a barker entitled "Slikum Silly." Miss Jessie Anderson closed their program with two solos, "My Laddie" and "Love's a Merchant."

President Robert Danskin then introduced Professor Ernest Eastman Leavitt of Tufts College Engineering School, who gave an interesting illustrated lecture, "China Through the Eyes of a Yankee."

The gathering all agreed that Confucius would have said "It was a swell evening." It ended with everyone standing with arms crossed and hands clasped together while singing "Auld Lang Syne."

Contract at Mead's

Mrs. Alice Golland and Miss M. Cartullo took top honors on Monday afternoon. Mrs. Cyril Hanson and Mrs. Lester Shirley won second honors, while Mrs. David Shean and Mrs. Mead placed third.

WOODCUTS

This amused us, perhaps you, too, will be amused.

Lo, Poor Editor

Consider the editor! A child is born unto the wife of a merchant in the town. The physician getteth 10 plunks. The editor writeth a stick and a half and telleth the multitude that the child tippeth the beam at nine pounds. Yea, he lieth even as a centurion. And the proud father giveth him a Cremo.

Behold, the young one groweth up and graduateth. And the editor putteth into his paper a swell notice. Yea, a peach of a notice. He telleth of the wisdom of the young woman and of her exceeding comeliness. Like unto the roses of Sharon is she and her gown is played up to beat the band. And the dress-maker getteth two score and four iron men. And the editor gets a note of thanks from the sweet girl graduate.

And the daughter goeth on a journey. And the editor throweth himself on the story of the farewell party. It runneth a column solid. And the fair one remembereth him from afar with a picture postal card that costeth six for a jitney.

Behold, she returneth, and the youth of the town fall down and worship. She picketh one and lo, she picketh a lemon. But the editor calleth him one of our promising young men and getteth away with it. And they send unto the editor a bid to the wedding, and behold the bids are fashioned in a far city.

Flowery and long is the wedding notice which the editor printeth. The minister getteth 10 bones. The groom standeth the editor off for a 12-months subscription.

All flesh is grass and in time the wife is gathered unto the soil. The minister getteth his bit. The editor printeth a death notice, two columns of obituary, three lodge notices, a cubit of poetry and a card of thanks. And he forgetteth to read proof on the head and the darning thing cometh out, "Gone to Her Last Roasting Place."

And all that are akin to the deceased jumpeth on the editor with exceeding great jumps. And they pulleth out their ads and cancelleth their subs, and they swing the hammer even unto the third and fourth generations.

Can't thou beat it?

Just the same the jump-on-ers are not as bad as the silent sufferers. Every once in a while someone will stop speaking to us when we meet, and for the life of us we couldn't tell you why. Something in the paper, we must assume, or something not in the paper, the result is the same. Anyway, we languisheth in exceeding sadness.

What a boon this steadily cold weather would have been in the old days when the ice crop from Spy Pond was one of Arlington's major industries, employing hundreds of men. The ice houses would have been filled in no time; ice would have been delightfully cheap next summer; and how the kids and older skaters would have gloried in the constantly renewed black ice. We don't suppose that the youngsters of today even know the meaning of the term "black ice."

We are, of course, in perfect sympathy with any effort toward governmental economy, whether national, state, or municipal. The Taxpayers' Association, for instance, is publishing some interesting figures in this issue of the Advocate, and although we are not in a position to vouch for their accuracy, since such data is supposed to be confidential and not for release until after the Finance Committee has finished its deliberations, they are certainly worth some thought and study.

It is possible, however, to go too far in municipal economy. We do not mean to suggest that Arlington is yet in danger of going too far, but consider the example of the city of Woburn. Mayor Kane has accomplished wonders there in reducing the tax rate, but what was the condition of his fire department when conflagration threatened the city on Tuesday of this week?

Early last month there were three plays in rehearsal at the Friends of the Drama clubhouse with the consequence that every bit of available space was being used by the gesticulating fraternity. Spectators were amused when the director suddenly shouted to his waiting cast, "Night Must Fall down stairs."

Night has been falling upstairs ever since, however, and that is good luck. Guest tickets will be at a premium when it falls on the stage every night the last three days of next week.

Sixty-Five Years Ago This Week

Mr. J. Winslow Peirce has resigned his position as Station Agent at the Center depot, a position he has filled more than sixteen years. Mr. Peirce has been conducting a coal and wood business in addition to his duties as station agent, and it is the press of this latter business that has made his resignation necessary. He is moving his personal effects and furniture (his own property) from the depot to the new coal office he has fitted up on Mystic street.

The town clerk says that there were 111 births in Arlington last year—57 males, 54 females. There were 76 deaths—56 males, 20 females. Forty-eight couples entered the bonds of matrimony.

On Thursday afternoon Arlington was chosen by a crowd of horse fanciers to show off their high steppers. By three o'clock the Avenue was packed with hundreds of elegant turnouts, which massed at "Foot of the Rocks," and came rushing down into the Center like a torrent. The celebrated "Molly Morris," owned and driven by Horace E. Willis of Medford, led the crowd at a 20 gait and was received at the finish with a fine round of applause. Tyler Hicks of Charlestown, with a green mare of extraordinary speed, struck for second honors, and Horace E. Hall of Medford, with "Tom Sutton," was not far behind. The process was repeated several times as "heats" were run until darkness and the gathering snowstorm dispersed the crowd. Charles O. Gage of Arlington, with a very pretty pair, was among the racers.

Fifty Years Ago This Week

Spy Pond may be a thing of beauty and a joy forever, yet it is treacherous to an unusual degree, the element of danger lurking there day and night, winter and summer. Five people were pulled from the icy water this week, as the wind had apparently worn the ice thin in unexpected spots. All were successfully rescued and seemed to be none the worse for the frightening experience.

The fire alarm rung in from box 43 last Tuesday noon was caused by a fire in the Arlington Alms House on Summer street. On discovering the location of the fire the engineers not only ordered a second alarm, but sent to Cambridge and Medford for steamers. No outside help was needed, it turned out, for the local men had extinguished the blaze with the aid of the chemical before help arrived. Once more the value of the new electric fire alarm system has been proven.

The high school hockey team continues to play well, beating Malden, 5 to 0 Wednesday afternoon on Spy Pond. Goals were scored by McCarthy (2), Robinson, Jost and Plaisted. Others on the Arlington team are Cook, Donnelly, Capt. Ross and Barry, goal.

By vote of the town, a return is to be made this year to the three-year term for members of the town's principal boards, a practice abandoned a few years ago. Already several have announced candidacies for several offices, but it will remain for the caucus to decide who shall run for three years, who for two and who for one.

Message from Bradford

Arlington Advocate,
13a Medford Street,
Arlington, Mass.

Dear Editor: You participated in the 1938 campaign to "clean house" in the Middlesex District Attorney's office. For this reason I think you may be interested in knowing what has been accomplished in that direction in the first year since I took office. The complete figures have just been made available to me and I submit them to you with some pride.

In 1939, my office disposed of 2125 cases. Of these 1774, or 84 per cent, resulted in convictions. This total includes cases of all types, whether coming into the Superior Court through appeals from the lower courts or through indictments. During the past year every issue was met squarely in open court as it presented itself. The power to nol pro was used to dispose of only 7 cases. 361 cases were not prosessed in 1938.

In 1938 the then District Attorney's department obtained a budget appropriation of $215,000 and expended in that year $187,000. (The average cost per case from 1929-1938 was $203,111.13.) In 1939 I requested and received an appropriation of $25,000 less than the appropriation for 1938. Our total expenditures for 1939 have amounted to $157,000, a saving of $30,000 over the expenditures of 1938. I can also report with satisfaction that this office has functioned with five assistants instead of six, resulting in the additional saving to the Commonwealth of the extra salary, $4,000.

My reason for sending you these statistics is not from any sense of personal achievement. With the whole-hearted cooperation of the police and the courts, with the help of State Detectives, with able as-assistants and conscientious juries, the job done deserves no personal commendation. I do derive much gratification, however, from the thought that some tangible return can be shown to public-spirited citizens who made an investment in what they hoped would be good government. I am glad to be able to prove what I have always believed: that a public business can be operated in the same manner and with the same results that any man has a right to expect in his private affairs.

No Shelter

To the Editor
Arlington Advocate
Arlington, Mass.

Dear Sir: I would like to comment, if I may, on the article published in the January 18 issue regarding the proposal of the Trade Associates to install benches in the Center and in the park between the Library and the Town Hall.

If the Trade Associates want to do something to really benefit the townspeople, I would suggest they do something about building some kind of shelter at the platforms where the people have to wait for the buses and the cars.

Have you ever stood there (in the Center) on a real bad stormy morning and waited for a Heights car? If you haven't, why not try it the next bad stormy day we have. Wait for an Arlington Heights elevated car, and if you should decide to take shelter in one of the store doorways, I hope you have your field glasses with you so that you can see the car as it approaches the Center. If you can't see the car sign from the doorway, I wager you'll make at least two, if not more, trips to the platform and back, because there are far more Center cars than Heights. Watch out, too, for the autos, you'll have plenty of time to dodge, too.

As it is now, I consider it as part of the day's work, but really, it is a matter well worth consideration. Can't you, editor of the town's paper, do something about this?

Truly and sincerely yours,
AN ARLINGTON BOOSTER.
Note: This letter was unsigned, but we publish it against our rule because the suggestion seems good and the language innocuous enough. We do not believe that there are more "Center" than "Heights" cars being run, but the fact remains that there is no shelter for shivering waiters. Ed.

EVENING ALLIANCE

The Monthly Program meeting of the Evening Alliance of the First Parish church was held on Wednesday, January 17th, this being the tenth anniversary of this branch of the organization. A beautiful birthday cake, a gift from Mrs. Arthur Wellington, was enjoyed by the members. A gift of money was also received from Mrs. Herbert Norris of Lexington. The music for the evening was furnished by Miss Lorna Grant, cellist, accompanied by Mrs. Edwin L. Allen. Mrs. Miriam S. Black, Red Cross nutritionist, gave a very enlightening talk on "Nutrition" and told about the work being done by her through the Red Cross.

UNIVERSALIST NEWS

Eldon Gray, 19 Wildwood avenue, succeeded Thomas L. Jones as president of the Men's Club at the annual meeting last Thursday, following a roast lamb supper served by Albert K. Peirce, the club's steward. Re-elected were Al Peirce, vice-president; Clarence Needham, treasurer; W. Edward Russell, secretary. Lyman Judd, 25 Appleton street, was received into membership.

A long, fruitful discussion as to how the club might better serve the interests of the church resulted in the adoption of a four-point program. Under the direction of Frank M. Harwood, chairman of the house committee, the members will do a variety of tasks for the proper maintenance of the church plant and equipment. The club will take over the responsibility of the parish social committee; this committee, of which David L. Peirce is chairman, will meet next Monday night at the home of Raymond H. Stearns, 11 Pine Ridge road, to plan one more parish affair as an independent group.

"Bud" Russell, an assistant scoutmaster of Troop 1 sponsored by the Universalist church, explained ways in which the club could help promote the activities of the troop to the benefit of both organizations. The members agreed to respond to the suggestions.

R. F. Needham, vice-chairman of the Universalist Laymen's Council of Massachusetts, Rhode Island and New Hampshire, urged that certain objectives of this denominational body be sought after by this club. It was decided to sponsor a joint meeting of Universalist laymen in the north metropolitan area.

James F. Youngie, a charter member of this club, characterized the meeting as one of the best in the history of the organization because it conformed to the main purpose which prompted its founding in 1919 by the late Rev. Frank L. Massie.

Members of the Y. P. C. U. gained a comprehensive understanding of the aims of the First Universalist church and the result of these aims through the various auxiliary groups at their meeting in the parish house last Sunday afternoon. After a worship service conducted by Paula Pitko, Rev. Robert M. Rice introduced the following church leaders: Raymond H. Stearns, chairman of the board of trustees; James F. Youngie, the senior deacon; John O. Matthews, superintendent of the church school; Mrs. Charles H. Dubig, president of the Samaritan Society. Mr. Rice spoke of the Men's Club and the Patterson Fellowship. This program is probably unique in the history of the local Y. P. C. U.

In recognition of her ability to review the salient aspects of new books in a manner that is both interesting and educational, Mrs. Robertine Rice has been invited to speak to the members of the Comet Club, a group of young women associated with the Calvary Methodist church, at their meeting next Monday evening. On February 13 Mrs. Rice will speak at an afternoon Lenten meeting at the First Universalist church in Cambridge.

Dr. George E. Huntley, pastor of the Roxbury Universalist church and former president of the General Sunday School Association, will address the members of the church school board of government next Monday evening on the subject, "The Voice of Inexperience." The meeting will be held at the home of the Misses Yerrinton, 59 Jason street. Eugene Adams of Portsmouth, New Hampshire, a theological student at Tufts College, has been added to the staff of teachers.

In common with local units of the Association of Universalist Women throughout the nation, there will be a service of dedication on Ash Wednesday, February 7, beginning at 2:30 p. m. at the church auditorium.

Rev. Robert M. Rice, chairman of the Church Extension Board of the Universalist denomination, has summoned the members to meet at Boston next Tuesday to discuss matters of church importance.

Edith and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Jones, of the First Universalist church, will be the subject of a feature in the public relations of the church on Tuesday, February 27, at 8:00 p. m.

Marietta Needham of Valentine road is holding classes in twirling at Woburn High School.

CHURCHES OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST

"Love" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world, on Sunday, February 4.

The Golden Text is: "The love of God is shed abroad in our hearts by the Holy Ghost which is given unto us" (Romans 5:5).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "If a man say, I love God, and hateth his brother, he is a liar: for he that loveth not his brother whom he hath seen, how can he love God whom he hath not seen? And this commandment have we from him, That he who loveth God love his brother also" (1 John 4:20, 21).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "With one Father, even God, the whole family of man would be brethren; and with one Mind and that God, or good, the brotherhood of man would consist of Love and Truth, and have unity of Principle and spiritual power which constrains divine Science" (pp. 469, 470).

BAPTIST MEN'S CLASS

One hundred and fifty-five members of the First Baptist Men's Class held a regular weekly meeting in the class room last Sunday, great enthusiasm being very evident. The song service, which was enjoyed by all, was led by orchestra leader Foster Brown, accompanied by the instrumentalists. Dr. Feagan continued his talk of the preceding Sunday evening service, "The Greater Church of Tomorrow."

The Men's Class and the Women's Fellowship plan a Valentine party to be served by a member of the class, Roy Hamilton. A program of musical numbers is also planned by the chairman of the social committee, Roger Jenks.

William Huston and daughter, Miss Isabelle, will play cornet solos. Isabelle was formerly a pupil of the late Walter Smith.

BRADSHAW-FRIENDLY UNION

There will be a meeting of the Bradshaw-Friendly Union of the Orthodox Congregational church on Monday, February 5. The luncheon at 12:30 will be followed by the regular meeting at 2 p. m. The speaker will be Rev. Hugh L. Robinson who has just returned from his work in foreign fields. All women interested are welcome.

All interested in joining the bowling league which is being formed will meet with Mrs. G. Edward Wilkins directly after the meeting.

The Mystic-side Group of the Bradshaw-Friendly Union of the Orthodox Congregational church met at the home of Mrs. H. B. Spong, 35 Bailey road, Friday afternoon. Mrs. Braman Proctor assisted Mrs. Spong in serving a delicious dessert preceding the meeting.

Mrs. R. E. Patten, Lombard terrace, was hostess for the Unity Group of the same organization Thursday afternoon. The group elected Mrs. Dale Barker and Mrs. Walter T. Chamberlain as co-chairmen, and Mrs. Arthur Forsythe as treasurer; it decided, too, to have two teas a month at which time sewing for the needy in the church will be done. The hostess served delicious refreshments at the close of the meeting.

A fine delegation of members of the Arlington Heights Baptist church accompanied their pastor on Tuesday this week to Malden, on the occasion of the great Baptist Convocation held in the First Baptist church of that city, in the interests of the Northern Baptist Convention.

We cannot afford this. With still more people losing their homes, with just as many out of work as ever we know that this is the wrong year to spend more money. We ask the Finance Committee to somehow cut these budget requests. We ask if this is a good year to raise salaries or expand services. We ask that every absolutely essential expenditure be taken care of but not one penny be spent that can be eliminated or deferred. We ask that the citizens of Arlington contact their Finance Committee members and express their ideas on this subject to them.

MEDICAL CLUBS MEET AT RING SANATORIUM

bring on anxiety, depression, and other symptoms which sometimes lead to serious difficulty.

The group was classified into various diagnoses with varying courses of illness but all showed a high percentage of recovery under proper regime. Doctors Prout and Bourcier stressed the importance of removal of the patient from the usual environment, rest and relief from the irritations of their personal problems. Early symptoms of depression, apprehension and self-condemnation should not be treated with lack of seriousness because they may be indications of oncoming trouble which can be averted or greatly minimized by suitable medical attention, they said.

Social and medical agencies have for some time given much study to the welfare of the young and to those of advanced age. Many dramatic and spectacular therapies have been developed, such as, shock therapy, (insulin, metrazol, etc.) Child guidance clinics and other groups give their attention to the young. The problems, medical and social of the aged and the efforts to solve them, are well known. Those who carry the responsibilities of all these are the people of middle life, who are more or less expected to be equal to all the burdens placed upon them. Because of this, conditions develop which either due to reluctance to acknowledge them or lack of knowledge of their seriousness, are allowed to become extremely troublesome and sometimes even tragic. Disorders of middle age should be recognized and receive early treatment by those qualified to deal with them.

Doctors Ralph H. Wells, Lexington, Frank J. Fleming, Belmont, Vernon Williams and Samuel Epstein of Boston, discussed the paper, concurring with the opinions expressed as a result of the study.

A buffet supper was served at the conclusion of the program.

The wedding of Miss Ethel Alicia Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hamlin Williams of West Hampstead, Long Island, to Lieut. Edward William Higgins, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward William Higgins of Arlington, took place on Saturday, January 27, at 4 o'clock at St. George's Episcopal church at Hempstead, Long Island, with the Rev. John Height officiating.

The bride's gown was ermine colored satin with old lace, 16 years old, and a princess train. The finger tip veil was held to a silver snood by a knot of orange blossoms. The bride carried a bouquet of white orchids and lilies of the valley with her prayer book.

The maid of honor, Miss Janet Williams of Hempstead, wore a picturesque chartreuse taffeta gown with hat, muffs and trimmings of deep crepe metal.

The bridesmaids were Miss Claire MacKroll of Brooklyn, New York, Miss Virginia Leudemann of Hollis, New York, and the groom's sisters, the Misses Barbara and Ruth Higgins of Arlington. Their gowns were of crepe metal and dusty rose taffeta, with shirred bodices and bustle effect waistcoats. They carried bouquets of various shades of violets on muffs. The gowns of the entire wedding party were of the period of 1880.

Lieut. George Rozwenc of Northampton, was the best man. The ushers included Lieut. Paul Gorman, Lieut. Randall Carpenter, and Lieut. Conway of Mitchell Field, Long Island, and Lieut. Oliver Salomela of Falmouth.

Principal Gammons Signally Honored

Herman Gammons, principal of the Arlington High School, has had an unusual honor bestowed upon him in his election as a member of the Headmasters' Association. A position he will hold for life. This is a particular honor in that the membership in this association, which covers the whole country, is limited to one hundred, of which seventy-five are heads of private schools and only twenty-five principals of public high schools. The Headmasters' Association, which was founded over forty years ago, includes some of the finest men in the educational field and embraces the leading private and public preparatory schools in the country. Mr. Gammons will be formally elected at the annual two-day meeting of the association to be held in the spring at the Westchester Country Club at Lake, New York.

Lord Lythorn, the British Ambassador, has been engaged as the speaker at this meeting for the presentation and discussion of educational topics.

Clarke Rated High As Bridge Expert

Frank K. Perkins assayed to select the ten best contract bridge players in New England and listed them alphabetically in last Sunday's Herald.

Probably the best player in Arlington is Walter F. Wyman, 215 Pleasant street, but to secure a rating in the first ten by Perkins it obviously is necessary to win sectional tournaments, and Mr. Wyman does not play in these at the present time but has conducted many of them.

In the article mentioned, Mr. Perkins, after listing the first ten, immediately cites Everett F. Clarke, 12 Fordham street, as being "outstanding among the young players." Mr. Clarke with his partner recently won the Northeastern pairs tournament and finished in second place in the last two important tournaments in which he entered.
